PARLIAMENTARY BUREAU

POSSIBLE MOTIONS FOR MEMBERS BUSINESS

1. Bureau Members will be aware that under Rule 5.6.1(c) the Bureau has a duty to ensure that there is a period of time available for Members' Business following Decision Time.
2. Motions submitted for Members' Business are shown below.

S3M-6227# Peter Peacock: Hill Tracks in the Scottish Uplands—That the Parliament notes with concern the number of engineered hill tracks appearing in the Scottish uplands, particularly in the Highlands; notes that such tracks can be constructed without planning consent when justified as being for agricultural, forestry or repair purposes; further notes the growing number of concerns from hill walkers, ramblers and mountaineers and members of the wider public about the intrusion of these tracks into the natural landscape and the impact on otherwise wild land; considers that, given the importance of the Scottish uplands for current and future generations, this warrants greater scrutiny of proposals for such tracks within the planning system; recognises the legitimate rights of farmers and crofters to continue to construct tracks for their purposes on what will generally be lower-lying land than considered to be a problem in this context; notes that Heriot-Watt University reported on these issues in March 2007, and would welcome the urgent mapping of tracks by reviewing current knowledge of track location and control provisions and consideration of future possibilities for greater control of developing hill tracks and the criteria under which any greater controls might operate.

S3M-6195# Pauline McNeill: Securing the Future of Glasgow's Subway—That the Parliament welcomes Strathclyde Partnership for Transport's decision to go ahead with its modernisation plan; recognises the important role that the subway plays in Glasgow's transport infrastructure and its significance to Scotland, carrying an estimated 14 million passengers annually; notes that this will be the first major investment project for the service since the 1970s, and hopes that the proposals receive the support that they need to go ahead and that the modernisation keeps Glasgow moving into the future.

Supported by: Patricia Ferguson, Jackie Baillie, David Stewart, James Kelly, Robin Harper, Margaret Curran, Charlie Gordon, Rhona Brankin, Karen Whitefield, Michael McMahon, Bill Butler, Robert Brown, Marlyn Glen, Mary Mulligan, Mr Frank McAveety, Ms Wendy Alexander, Trish Godman, Hugh Henry, Sarah Boyack*

S3M-6180# Malcolm Chisholm: Lymphoedema Services in Scotland—That the Parliament welcomes the increased numbers of women surviving breast cancer in NHS Lothian but is concerned that many survivors are still at risk of developing lymphoedema; recognises the impact that lymphoedema has on quality of life in terms of movement, discomfort and appearance of the arm and other parts of the upper body; is further concerned that access to and provision of high-quality lymphoedema services varies across the country, and believes that a high quality and equitable service that meets the needs of people in Scotland with or at risk of lymphoedema is needed.

Supported by: Karen Whitefield, Elaine Smith, Jamie Hepburn, Mary Scanlon, Jackie Baillie, Michael Matheson, Shirley-Anne Somerville, John Park, Mr Frank McAveety, Elaine Murray, Aileen Campbell, Hugh Henry, Des McNulty, Margaret Mitchell, Marlyn Glen, Dr Richard Simpson, Hugh O'Donnell, Margo MacDonald, Robin Harper, Sarah Boyack, Trish Godman, David Whitton, Mary Mulligan, Cathy Jamieson, Kenneth Gibson, Marilyn Livingstone

S3M-6145# Sarah Boyack: Broadcasting Black Hole for Scottish Rugby—That the Parliament notes Scotland's commendable performance during the Six Nations tournament with a notable away win in Ireland; is disappointed that terrestrial broadcasters do not cover a broader range of rugby matches and tournaments at all playing levels; believes that more investment in the coverage of Scottish rugby is essential in order to promote sport in general to a wider audience, thereby increasing participation and health levels and to showcase the successes of Scotland's rugby teams; notes the substantial contribution that rugby matches bring to the local Edinburgh economy, and would welcome efforts to ensure increased broadcast coverage of rugby in Scotland.

Supported by: Jamie Hepburn, Shirley-Anne Somerville, Karen Gillon, Liam McArthur, Mary Mulligan, Stewart Maxwell, Kenneth Gibson, Andy Kerr, Mike Pringle, George Foulkes, Rhona Brankin, Mr Frank McAveety, Elaine Smith, Jackie Baillie, Elaine Murray, Trish Godman, John Wilson, Maureen Watt, Marilyn Livingstone

S3M-6139# Bill Kidd: Deaf Awareness Week 2010—That the Parliament welcomes Deaf Awareness Week 2010, which is to take place between 28 June and 4 July 2010 and aims to improve understanding of different types of deafness by highlighting the many different methods of communication used by deaf, deafened, deafblind and hard-of-hearing people, such as sign language and lip-reading; also welcomes the launch and presentation of an exclusive corporate DVD on behalf of the Hearing Company by Julie McElroy, which aims to raise awareness and understanding of issues surrounding deafness by drawing on Julie's own experiences with deafness, and applauds the efforts of the UK Council on Deafness, Julie McElroy and all others involved in coordinating and contributing to the 2010 Deaf Awareness Week Campaign.

S3M-6134# Duncan McNeil: Halt Hospice Cuts—That the Parliament commends the volunteer drivers who have provided a valued transport service on behalf of Ardgowan Hospice in Inverclyde for the last 29 years; recognises that more than 1,000 cancer patients rely on them to attend hospital appointments in Glasgow every year; notes the NHS Greater Glasgow and Clyde Palliative Care Health Needs Assessment 2010, which stated that "patients found this to be a very welcome support that reduced the added stress that the ambulance transport brought to an already stressful experience"; further notes that NHS Greater Glasgow and Clyde has since withdrawn funding for this transport service, and believes that funding should be found so that Ardgowan Hospice volunteers are given all the support that they need and deserve to ensure the future of this important service.

Supported by: Ms Wendy Alexander, Robin Harper, Elaine Smith, Bill Butler, Sarah Boyack, Mary Mulligan, Jackie Baillie, Michael McMahon, James Kelly, Hugh O'Donnell, John Park, Mr Frank McAveety, Des McNulty, Pauline McNeill, Elaine Murray, Dr Richard Simpson, Hugh Henry, Ross Finnie, Trish Godman, Marilyn Livingstone, Tom McCabe, Karen Whitefield

S3M-6128# Cathy Peattie: Full Steam Ahead from Bo'ness to Manuel—That the Parliament congratulates the Scottish Railway Preservation Society (SRPS) on the extension of the Bo'ness and Kinneil Railway to include a further 1.5 miles from Birkhill to Manuel, where the line is linked to the main rail network; notes that the extension, which included relaying a section of the line and extending Birkhill station platform, was made possible by the tremendous contribution of volunteer workers, and wishes the SRPS continuing success in its plans for the future, including the building of a new station at Manuel.

S3M-6099# Elaine Smith: Remembering John Wheatley MP 80 Years On—That the Parliament pays tribute to John Wheatley MP on the 80th anniversary of his death on 12 May 2010; notes that he emigrated with his family from County Waterford in Ireland to spend his formative years in Bargeddie, near Coatbridge; acknowledges the pioneering work that he undertook in attempting to alleviate poverty and social deprivation through his 1924 Housing Act, which contained a visionary 15-year plan based on rising central government subsidies to local government; recognises with concern, however, that, although Wheatley fully understood the link between housing and health, many of the inequalities that he endeavoured to abolish still exist today; believes that the fact that there are large discrepancies in life expectancy in modern day Scotland between the most affluent areas and those that suffer from inadequate housing and ill health is a national tragedy; would welcome an end to slum housing conditions, the introduction of rent controls and a massive building programme of new, modern, affordable council and social rented housing, and hopes that future housing legislation will be based on the premise that a house is a fundamental human right, not simply a commodity, and thus enshrine a right to rent.

Supported by: Marlyn Glen, Michael McMahon, James Kelly, Dave Thompson, Elaine Murray, Mr Frank McAveety, Robin Harper, Bill Butler, George Foulkes, Patricia Ferguson, David Whitton, Bill Wilson, Gil Paterson, Sarah Boyack, Jamie Hepburn, Hugh Henry, Jack McConnell, Marilyn Livingstone, David Stewart, Linda Fabiani

S3M-6091# Aileen Campbell: Brownsbank Fellowship—That the Parliament notes with concern the decision by South Lanarkshire Council to withdraw its funding for the Brownsbank Writing Fellowship, a position aimed at promoting creative writing throughout the local authority area and which has helped maintain Brownsbank Cottage, near Biggar, in the South of Scotland region, the final home of Scots makar Hugh McDairmid, as a centre of literary activity; notes that withdrawal of funding will result in withdrawal of match funding from the Scottish Arts Council and lead to the end of the fellowship; believes that since its inception in 1993, the six Brownsbank fellows to have held the post have helped improve literacy and appreciation of Scottish literature in South Lanarkshire and beyond, and hopes that a way can be found to help the Biggar Museum Trust, which administers the fellowship, to continue supporting this important position.

Supported by: Robin Harper, Rob Gibson, Sandra White, Alasdair Allan, Bill Kidd, Bob Doris, Gil Paterson, Stuart McMillan, Jamie Hepburn, Linda Fabiani

S3M-6086# Bill Butler: Bank on Owen—That the Parliament welcomes the launch of the Bank on Owen campaign, which aims to have Robert Owen of New Lanark commemorated on Scottish bank notes to mark the International Year of Cooperatives in 2012; recognises the contribution that Robert Owen made to Scottish society through his pioneering work at New Lanark where he championed co-operative principles and values; notes that the co-operative sector in Scotland is worth over £3 billion to the economy and that the co-operative business model has proven extremely resilient and reliable during the recent global economic upheaval, and would welcome widespread support for this proposal.

Supported by: Bill Kidd, Margaret Curran, Rob Gibson, Jackie Baillie, James Kelly, Mr Frank McAveety, Kenneth Gibson, Marlyn Glen, Robert Brown, Ms Wendy Alexander, Brian Adam, Karen Whitefield, Johann Lamont, Hugh Henry, Trish Godman, Stuart McMillan, Bob Doris, David Whitton, Patricia Ferguson, Sandra White, Elaine Murray, Cathie Craigie, Pauline McNeill, John Wilson, Cathy Peattie, Elaine Smith, Malcolm Chisholm, Mary Mulligan, George Foulkes, Aileen Campbell, John Park, Angela Constance, Christine Grahame, Des McNulty, Ken Macintosh, Hugh O'Donnell, Jamie Hepburn, Peter Peacock, Gil Paterson, Rhona Brankin, Jack McConnell, Marilyn Livingstone, David Stewart, Linda Fabiani, Patrick Harvie

S3M-5981# Pauline McNeill: Withdrawal of Cheques—That the Parliament notes the decision of the UK Payment Council to phase out cheques by 2018; notes that, although the use of cheques is in decline, figures show that 663 million cheques were used in 2008 and the banks stand to gain significant savings from their abolition; further notes the concerns raised by the Federation of Small Businesses and Age Scotland; is concerned that, due to this decision, many companies are already refusing to accept cheques, and would welcome consultation on a suitable alternative method for those, in Glasgow and across Scotland, who rely on the cheque system that has the confidence of the consumer.

Supported by: Mike Pringle, John Wilson, Ken Macintosh, Ian McKee, Andy Kerr, Gil Paterson, Bill Kidd, Cathie Craigie, Mary Mulligan, Irene Oldfather, Elaine Smith, Trish Godman, Robin Harper, Stuart McMillan, Jamie Hepburn, David Whitton, Sandra White, Liam McArthur, Elaine Murray, Sarah Boyack, Cathy Peattie, Johann Lamont, Rhoda Grant, David Stewart, Christine Grahame, Helen Eadie, Mr Frank McAveety, Bill Wilson, Maureen Watt, Hugh Henry, Marilyn Livingstone, Dave Thompson

S3M-5964# Ross Finnie: Hunterston Not the Way Forward for Carbon Capture—That the Parliament notes the lodging of the application by Peel Energy Ltd to build a 1,600 megawatt coal-fired power station at Hunterston, North Ayrshire; understands that, initially, the power station is to have 400 megawatt of its gross output (300 megawatt net) processed through carbon capture and storage technology, which would leave 75% to 80% of the plant's CO₂ emissions unabated for an indeterminate length of time; further considers that these unabated emissions, which could amount to up to some four million tonnes of CO₂ emissions per annum, are incompatible with the climate change targets set out in the Climate Change (Scotland) Act 2009, and accordingly believes that the development of carbon capture and storage technology should be restricted to existing coal-fired stations.

Supported by: Robert Brown, Mike Pringle, Jim Hume, Hugh O'Donnell, Malcolm Chisholm, Liam McArthur, Jim Tolson, Nicol Stephen, Alison McInnes

S3M-5959# Jackie Baillie: Pushed off the EDGE—That the Parliament expresses its concern that the Encouraging Dynamic Global Entrepreneurs (EDGE) programme has been cancelled; understands that EDGE is an innovative, international entrepreneurial programme that brings together students from leading Scottish universities, fifth-year school pupils in the Dumbarton constituency and in the rest of Scotland and students from international universities; further understands that the students form consultancy teams working on projects with Scottish businesses; considers that, in the four years that EDGE has been operating, it has equipped Scotland's pupils and students with an understanding about business needs; notes that EDGE has also helped businesses to grow and develop, with projected outcomes of £24.6 million turnover, £3 million profits and 264 jobs created; further considers that the benefit to young Scottish students at both high school and university level is invaluable, and would welcome discussion by all those involved to secure the future of the programme.

Supported by: Des McNulty, James Kelly, Trish Godman, Sarah Boyack, Hugh Henry, Ken Macintosh, Jack McConnell, Elaine Murray, Cathy Peattie, Johann Lamont, Marilyn Livingstone, Mary Mulligan, David Stewart, Ms Wendy Alexander, Patricia Ferguson, Andy Kerr, John Park, Karen Gillon, Hugh O'Donnell, Dr Richard Simpson

S3M-5942# Christina McKelvie: Tackling Youth Crime on the Street—That the Parliament commends the Street, an innovative immersive drama project funded through Regen:fx Youth Trust in Hamilton, which confronts young people with the consequences of destructive and violent behaviour; notes that the Street combines hard-hitting theatre performance with youth work and education to challenge harmful behaviour by young people, highlight the consequences of their actions, and how that impacts on others, and encourage them to question their life choices; further notes that the project not only works with targeted groups of young people who have been identified as being at particular risk of becoming involved in crime but also that the drama is performed by young people who have themselves previously participated in the project; believes that such peer-to-peer discussion about violence, crime and their consequences, backed up by strong professional support, is an effective model for enabling at-risk young people to explore their attitudes and feelings and the choices available to them; further believes that this model has the potential to reduce offending by young people in communities across Scotland, and hopes that funding is found to allow Regen:fx Youth Trust to continue this important project.

Supported by: Michael Matheson, Bill Kidd, Kenneth Gibson, Sandra White, Bob Doris, Hugh O'Donnell, Robin Harper, Stuart McMillan, Jamie Hepburn, Gil Paterson, Linda Fabiani, Angela Constance

S3M-5940# Stuart McMillan: World Oceans Day—That the Parliament recognises World Oceans Day 2010 on 8 June and congratulates the United Nations for designating a day with the aim of improving the health of the world's oceans; considers that lobbying by the Ocean Project and the World Ocean Network encouraged the UN to officially recognise 8 June as World Oceans Day; acknowledges that there will be events to mark the date across the world and hopes that communities across Scotland may take part or organise their own events; further considers that the Marine (Scotland) Act 2010, Scotland's first such Act, goes a long way in improving awareness and responsibility for the sustainability of Scotland's seas and hopes that the events on 8 June will take up this message; hopes that the theme of the day, Our Oceans, Our Responsibility, will be widely spread, and wishes World Oceans Day much success in future years.

Supported by: Alasdair Allan, Aileen Campbell, Shirley-Anne Somerville, Bill Wilson, Gil Paterson, Sandra White, Maureen Watt, Kenneth Gibson, Joe FitzPatrick, Robin Harper, Brian Adam, Elaine Murray, Mike Pringle, Sarah Boyack, Jamie Hepburn, Linda Fabiani

S3M-5936# Alex Johnstone: Offshore Wind Farms and the Fishing Industry—That the Parliament welcomes the construction of offshore wind farms around the Scottish coast, which will increase the use of renewable energy and create related employment; notes with concern, however, ongoing research by the University of Maine, among others, into the effects of offshore wind farms on marine species such as crustaceans, suggesting that construction may have a negative impact on crustacean habitats, especially spawning/nursery grounds; notes the concerns of fishermen who catch crustaceans, including those from the north east of Scotland, and who fear that they will be denied access to traditional fishing grounds when the wind farms are built; acknowledges the important contribution that fishermen make to the economy, and would welcome the involvement of fishermen in discussions on wind farms in order to achieve an equitable solution.

Supported by: Bill Aitken, Murdo Fraser, Nanette Milne, John Scott, John Lamont, Mary Scanlon, Kenneth Gibson, Karen Whitefield, Annabel Goldie, Karen Gillon

S3M-5902# Bob Doris: Tackling Organised Crime—That the Parliament believes that the cross-party Glasgow crime summit on Monday 8 March 2010 is a welcome initiative in tackling serious and organised crime; affirms its desire to find political consensus for the various methods of tackling serious and organised crime, and would welcome further work to close in on the seemingly respectable business activities of organised criminals and find solutions that will protect the safety of the public and seize assets from criminal networks.

Supported by: Brian Adam, Robin Harper, Kenneth Gibson, Shirley-Anne Somerville, Rob Gibson, Bill Wilson, Anne McLaughlin, Bill Kidd, Mike Pringle, Gil Paterson, Angela Constance

S3M-5898# Peter Peacock: The Future of Library Services—That the Parliament applauds the contribution made by libraries and library staff, which it considers to be essential to the social, cultural and economic wellbeing of Scotland's communities for the past 150 years, including those in the Highlands and Islands; understands that more people in Scotland visit libraries than football matches or cinemas; considers that, despite investment in the library service, more work needs to be done to keep libraries central to their communities; welcomes Unison's Love Your Libraries campaign, which will assess the major contribution made by those working in the library service and library users and make recommendations on safeguarding the future of the library service, and believes that all options should be considered to ensure the long-term viability of this essential service.

Supported by: David Stewart, Patricia Ferguson, Rhoda Grant, Claire Baker, Dr Richard Simpson, Patrick Harvie, Margaret Curran, Jackie Baillie, Robin Harper, Marlyn Glen, Karen Whitefield, Rhona Brankin, Marilyn Livingstone, Mary Mulligan, John Park, Robert Brown, Cathy Peattie, Des McNulty, Bill Kidd, Linda Fabiani, Liam McArthur, Alison McInnes, Trish Godman, Mr Frank McAveety, Hugh Henry, Gil Paterson, Pauline McNeill, Jack McConnell, Ken Macintosh, Sarah Boyack, Tom McCabe

S3M-5880# Mary Scanlon: Investment in Bog Myrtle—That the Parliament regrets that the Scottish Government cannot provide any funding under the Scotland Rural Development Programme's Rural Priorities scheme toward the growing of the bog myrtle plant; welcomes the commitment of Essentially Scottish Botanicals Ltd, based in Kiltarlity, Inverness-shire, to developing the bog myrtle plant as a commercial crop; considers that the bog myrtle industry has huge economic potential for Scotland; understands that the plant's properties are similar to that of Australian tea tree oil, which is reportedly worth over US$25 million in export sales to Australia each year; further understands that the bog myrtle plant holds even greater antiseptic, antibacterial, antifungal, anti-inflammatory and antiviral properties than tea tree oil; considers that bog myrtle has a huge advantage over tea tree oil in that it is hypoallergenic at relatively high concentrations; understands that the Australian Government part-funded research into the tea tree industry in order that oil yields could be increased from 148kg per hectare to 250kg per hectare; believes that, after initial planting investment, a low-maintenance bog myrtle plantation can have an average life of 20 years, and would welcome consideration of the ways in which research into increasing the yields of bog myrtle could be funded in order to make it a commercially attractive non-food crop.

Supported by: Nanette Milne, Margaret Mitchell, Jamie McGrigor, John Scott, John Wilson, Robin Harper, Ken Macintosh, Bill Aitken, Bill Kidd, Jim Hume, Elaine Smith, Annabel Goldie, Dave Thompson

S3M-5857# Elaine Murray: Local News Coverage in the South of Scotland—That the Parliament notes that the current news coverage provided by ITV Tyne Tees & Border consists of a six-minute opt-out for the former Border region plus 21 minutes of coverage from Tyne Tees; is concerned that residents in Dumfries and Galloway and the Scottish Borders are receiving a disproportionate amount of news content that is of little relevance to them; believes that residents in the South of Scotland are being disadvantaged compared with the rest of Scotland with regard to coverage of matters relating to the activities of the Scottish Parliament, and further believes that the UK Department for Media, Culture and Sport's proposals to fund regional TV pilots provides an opportunity for bidders to offer a half-hour current affairs programme relevant to the South of Scotland and thereby build up capacity in TV broadcasting and stimulate the creative industries across the region.

Supported by: Malcolm Chisholm, Trish Godman, Christine Grahame, Sarah Boyack, Cathy Peattie, Kenneth Gibson, Bill Kidd, Mr Frank McAveety, David Stewart, Hugh Henry, Ken Macintosh, Robin Harper, Jackie Baillie, David Whitton, Lewis Macdonald, Mary Mulligan, Sandra White, Christopher Harvie

S3M-5837# Gil Paterson: We Like Milngavie—That the Parliament notes the launch of the campaign group known as We like Milngavie, which was set up to oppose plans by Tesco to double the size of its current premises in Milngavie; considers that this would seriously affect the village theme of the Milngavie town centre; believes that local town centres are the lifeblood of any local community and that town centres across Scotland are losing their character; further considers that there is increasing local opposition to these plans, and would welcome consideration of the views of the people of Milngavie and Bearsden with regards to this proposed development with a view to not overdeveloping the site.

Supported by: Rob Gibson, Bill Kidd, Stuart McMillan, Robin Harper, Alasdair Allan, Aileen Campbell, Des McNulty, Sandra White, Christopher Harvie

S3M-5805# Bill Kidd: Scottish Academy of Literature—That the Parliament notes the publication of the report of the Literature Working Group, which proposes the creation of a Scottish academy of literature to foster and expand the literary culture of Scotland, shining a light on both authors of the past and those yet to come; welcomes the group's other recommendations such as the establishment of a Gaelic literary magazine, encouraging publishers to publish works in Scots and the setting up of a government body to report on public libraries; agrees with the group that the creation of a Scottish academy of literature is long overdue given that Scotland is the birthplace of UNESCO's first city of literature and that the Royal Scottish Academy was formed in 1826 and the Royal Society of Edinburgh in 1723, and believes that, coupled with other initiatives that celebrate literature, such as the Edinburgh International Book Festival and Glasgow's Aye Write festival in March 2010, these recommendations can be successful in ensuring a bright future for Scottish literature.

Supported by: Jamie Hepburn, Alasdair Allan, Kenneth Gibson, Ted Brocklebank, Shirley-Anne Somerville, Aileen Campbell, Sandra White, Bob Doris, Hugh Henry, Rob Gibson, John Wilson, Stuart McMillan, Michael Matheson, Gil Paterson, Mike Pringle, Angela Constance

S3M-5794# Sandra White: Glasgow City of Science—That the Parliament welcomes the launch of Glasgow City of Science, a project bringing together Glasgow Science Centre, Glasgow City Council, the city's four universities, Glasgow Art School and Glasgow Botanic Gardens alongside other colleges and organisations, which will celebrate Glasgow's great heritage as a centre of science while encouraging interest, education and investment in the science, medicine, technology and engineering sectors; supports this initiative and its goals to enhance the city and create a hub of scientific excellence, and wishes the Glasgow City of Science project every success.

Supported by: Kenneth Gibson, Alasdair Allan, Patrick Harvie, Rob Gibson, Robert Brown, Stuart McMillan, Joe FitzPatrick, Bill Kidd, Bob Doris, Jamie Hepburn, Stewart Maxwell, Bill Aitken, Alison McInnes, Jack McConnell, Michael Matheson, Gil Paterson, Liam McArthur, Ken Macintosh

S3M-5722# Elaine Smith: First ScotRail Industrial Relations—That the Parliament understands that a provision exists in the First ScotRail franchise agreement that provides the Scottish Government with discretionary powers to reimburse the company for revenues lost due to industrial action; supports the position of the Scottish Trades Union Congress (STUC) that it is wholly wrong for public funds to be used to support private companies such as First ScotRail in disputes with trade unions; also agrees with the STUC that the provision and use of such powers is not conducive to good industrial relations as it weakens the incentive for private companies to reach agreement; further supports the view of the STUC that such powers should not be used in the event of industrial action in the current dispute between First ScotRail and the National Union of Rail, Maritime and Transport Workers (RMT); welcomes the fact that the Scottish Government has been in dialogue with the RMT over the issues involved in the dispute, and believes that the interests of constituents in Coatbridge and Chryston, passengers, rail workers and Scotland would be best served by an early and agreed negotiated settlement to end this dispute.

Supported by: Mr Frank McAveety, Bill Butler, Marlyn Glen, Cathy Peattie, Hugh Henry, Patricia Ferguson, Robin Harper, Karen Whitefield, Ms Wendy Alexander, Des McNulty, Rhoda Grant, John Park, Hugh O'Donnell, Michael McMahon*, David Stewart*, Charlie Gordon*, Elaine Murray*, Mary Mulligan*, Trish Godman*, Jackie Baillie*

S3M-5668# Stuart McMillan: Community Service Assistance—That the Parliament recognises the work carried out during the recent adverse weather conditions by offenders given community service orders; understands that tasks were completed satisfactorily and with obvious community benefit, and would welcome introduction of a similar scheme, where possible, with those people carrying out community service orders assisting to clear out watercourses and culverts where communities such as Greenock and other areas in Inverclyde have been at risk of flooding.

Supported by: Bill Kidd, Alasdair Allan, Brian Adam, Bob Doris, Jamie Hepburn, Aileen Campbell, Robin Harper, Sandra White, Christina McKelvie, Rob Gibson, Maureen Watt, Gil Paterson, Dave Thompson, David McLetchie

S3M-5661# Linda Fabiani: Hands up for Young Trad Ambassadors—That the Parliament recognises the worth of the BBC Radio Scotland Young Traditional Musician of the Year competition's finalists for musical excellence, as ambassadors for their nation's culture and heritage and contributors to the wellbeing, both economic and social, of Scotland; notes that the competition is celebrating its tenth anniversary and congratulates the 2010 winner, Daniel Thorpe, along with previous winners, Gillian Frame, Emily Smith, Anna Massie, James Graham, Stuart Cassells, Shona Mooney, Catriona Watt, Ewan Robertson and Ruaridh Macmillan, and thanks the BBC, Simon Thumire and the TMSA for the work carried out in organising both the competition and the resultant Young Trad Tours.

Supported by: Jamie Hepburn, Bill Kidd, Anne McLaughlin, Stuart McMillan, Sandra White, Liam McArthur, Tavish Scott, Ross Finnie, Ken Macintosh, Kenneth Gibson, Jim Tolson, Hugh O'Donnell, Willie Coffey, Mary Scanlon, Hugh Henry, John Wilson, Pauline McNeill, Ted Brocklebank, Robin Harper, Stewart Maxwell, Rob Gibson, Ian McKee, Mike Pringle, Cathy Peattie, Maureen Watt, Elaine Smith, Shirley-Anne Somerville, Michael Matheson, Christina McKelvie, Gil Paterson, Dave Thompson, Aileen Campbell, Joe FitzPatrick

S3M-5640# Karen Whitefield: We Want Our Missing Millions—That the Parliament welcomes the We want our Missing Millions campaign by the organisation, for Scotland's Disabled Children; notes that the campaign seeks to secure £11.3 million from the Scottish Government for Scotland's disabled children, representing the final third of £34 million intended to support disabled children and young people; notes that in North Lanarkshire this would mean over £700,000 for better and new services for disabled children and young people, and would strongly welcome the £11.3 million being spent on support for disabled children and young people in all areas.

Supported by: Cathy Jamieson, Ken Macintosh, Marlyn Glen, Claire Baker, Mary Mulligan, James Kelly, Rhona Brankin, Ms Wendy Alexander, Elaine Smith, Michael McMahon, Bill Butler, Jackie Baillie, Robin Harper, Des McNulty, Marilyn Livingstone, Andy Kerr, Dr Richard Simpson, Cathy Peattie, Margaret Curran, Pauline McNeill, John Park, Trish Godman, Elaine Murray, Hugh Henry, Cathie Craigie, Patricia Ferguson, Hugh O'Donnell, Tom McCabe, Jim Tolson, David Whitton, Sarah Boyack, George Foulkes, Alison McInnes, Charlie Gordon, Malcolm Chisholm, Johann Lamont, Karen Gillon

S3M-5636# Ian McKee: Family Nurse Partnership Programme in Lothian—That the Parliament congratulates NHS Lothian on being selected by the Scottish Government as a test site, fully funded for three years, for a Family Nurse Partnership programme, an intensive preventive programme for vulnerable first-time young parents that has a 30-year evidence base showing the potential for improvements in women's ante-natal health, reductions in children's injuries, greater intervals between births, increases in fathers' involvement, increases in employment and earnings, reductions in the need for benefits, improvements in school readiness, reduced arrests and criminal behaviour in 15-year-olds and mothers and that eventually produces savings five times the amount of an initial investment; realises that one measure alone is not the entire answer to challenges in this field but a welcome start, and wishes the project every success.

S3M-5630# Sandra White: Threat to Glasgow Jobs—That the Parliament expresses its concern over the announcement by the Student Loans Company to cut 150 jobs in Glasgow and Hillington alongside the transfer of a further 45 jobs to its base in Darlington; believes that, at this time of economic uncertainty, everything that can be done to retain these jobs should be done; fully supports the Public and Commercial Services Union campaign against these cuts, and hopes that in the course of the consultation process wiser counsel will prevail.

Supported by: Rob Gibson, Brian Adam, Elaine Smith, Pauline McNeill, Michael Matheson, Bob Doris, Kenneth Gibson, Bill Kidd, Gil Paterson, Dave Thompson, Hugh Henry, Trish Godman, Stuart McMillan, Charlie Gordon, John Scott, Ross Finnie, Des McNulty, Ken Macintosh, Stewart Maxwell, Duncan McNeil, Bill Wilson, Mr Frank McAveety, Joe FitzPatrick, Irene Oldfather, Linda Fabiani, Robert Brown, Ms Wendy Alexander, Tom McCabe

S3M-5606# Trish Godman: The Registration and Transfer of Youth Football Players—That the Parliament views with concern the child welfare and legal implications of professional Scottish football clubs entering into contracts with children aged under 16; considers that boys in the Scottish Football Youth Initiative Programme entering into a one-year contract with a Scottish Football Association (SFA) club are often unaware that this gives the club the right to hold player registrations for a further two years; understands that players can be released from their registration at any time, giving senior clubs the opportunity to “harvest” hundreds of players; further views with concern the practice of compensation payments between SFA clubs for the transfer of young players under 16; considers that the legal and moral questions over the registration and transfer of youth players should be addressed urgently; believes that there is an important balance to strike in the relationship between children and sport, and commends all those involved in grassroots football in places such as Erskine, including Willie Smith, who has devoted 43 years to youth football.

S3M-5591# Christina McKelvie: Stop the Traffik—That the Parliament supports the work of Stop the Traffik, the international campaign against people trafficking; notes that people trafficking is a growing concern, with up to an estimated four million men, women and children being trafficked across borders and within their own countries every year; joins Stop the Traffik’s 1,000 member organisations in 50 countries worldwide in condemning the outrage of this ongoing enslavement of human beings; further notes the reported success that Stop the Traffik has had in forcing Cadbury, Mars and Nestlé to reduce the amount of chocolate that they use from Côte d’Ivoire, where thousands of children who have been trafficked are used to harvest the cocoa beans that make over a third of the world’s chocolate; endorses the campaigns at www.stophetraffik.org to encourage confectionary manufacturers to increase their use of certified fairly traded cocoa beans, to encourage business travellers to learn how to recognise and report incidences of trafficking and to raise awareness of the dangers of the 2012 Olympic Games being used as an opportunity by people traffickers, and congratulates the Rev John Carswell and his colleagues at Cadzow Parish Church in Hamilton on organising a fundraising and awareness-raising concert in aid of Stop the Traffik, which will take place on the evening of 20 February 2010.

S3M-5575# Christine Grahame: Happy 20th Birthday, Radio Borders—That the Parliament recognises the important role of local radio such as Radio Borders, which is celebrating 20 years of broadcasting on Friday 22 January 2010; notes its invaluable role throughout the year in reporting on local issues and acting as an important messaging service, in particular in the recent bad weather, keeping people up to date with the travel and weather situation thanks to the presenters getting into work, and offers best wishes and thanks to all local radio stations but, in particular, Radio Borders.

Supported by: Derek Brownlee, Jamie Hepburn

S3M-5513# Hugh Henry: Local Newspapers—That the Parliament notes the contribution made by local papers in Renfrewshire and throughout Scotland; believes that local daily papers such as the Paisley Daily Express, weekly papers such as the Gazette and free papers such as the Extra all add to healthy local discussion; is concerned that the removal of local authority and Scottish Government advertising will weaken the financial viability of local newspapers; notes that many people, particularly older people and those on a low income, do not have access to the internet; believes that public agency advertising in local newspapers is important for a healthy democracy, and would welcome a review of the decision to end advertising public notices in local newspapers.

S3M-5294# Johann Lamont: STUC Women, Working to Improve Women's Lives—That the Parliament congratulates the Scottish Trades Union Congress Women's Committee on its recent conference, bringing together women trade unionists from across Scotland to debate the key economic and social issues facing women in the Pollok constituency, across Glasgow and throughout Scotland; acknowledges the important role played by Scottish women trade unionists in campaigning for greater representation of women at every level of government, in public bodies and in the private sector; recognises the importance of addressing the impact of economic recession on women's lives, and believes that tackling disadvantage and inequality must be high in policy and budget priorities.

S3M-5168# Anne McLaughlin: The Future of East Coast Rail Services—That the Parliament expresses concern over reports that the east coast rail link between Glasgow Central and London King's Cross is to be axed, resulting in a loss of 40% of capacity, or 22,000 seats a week, to direct services between London and Glasgow; notes that such a move will also affect travel between Glasgow and the north of England; further notes that the west coast main line is prone to engineering works and delays and that, with no east coast main line, Glasgow business and tourism will be put at a disadvantage; considers that these proposals by the UK Government are a mistake, and believes that the nationalised east coast main line should continue to offer regular direct services to Glasgow from London King's Cross.

PARLIAMENTARY BUREAU

END OF LIFE ASSISTANCE (SCOTLAND) BILL COMMITTEE: REQUEST TO APPOINT AN ADVISER

Background

1. At its meeting on 27 April, the Bureau considered a paper from the End of Life Assistance (Scotland) Bill Committee requesting approval to appoint an adviser to assist in the scrutiny of the Bill at Stage 1.
2. The Bureau agreed to ask the committee to provide further information on the level of assistance that could be provided by the Parliament's legal office in relation to the inquiry and an indication as to whether the committee has been able to find a candidate that meets the adviser specification and level of expertise required.
3. A response from the clerk to the committee, which has been prepared in consultation with the Convener, is attached at Annex A. The response provides details of an informal briefing to the committee by the Solicitor to the Parliament on the level of advice that could be provided on the Bill. The response also explains that all four candidates for the post of adviser are considered to be sufficiently expert for appointment.

Recommendation

4. The Bureau will wish to consider, in light of the further information provided, whether to approve the End of Life Assistance (Scotland) Bill Committee's request to appoint an adviser to assist in its scrutiny of the Bill at Stage 1 (under Rule 12.7).

Response from Clerk to the End of Life Assistance (Scotland) Bill Committee
28 April 2010

1. Discussions have already taken place with the Parliament's legal office and, indeed, the Solicitor to the Parliament has already given an informal briefing to members of the committee, with an undertaking to continue to assist the committee going forward. The Solicitor has indicated clearly that, although she will be able to give advice on the statutes and case law relevant to this Bill, including clarifying any references in evidence to those cases and statutes and setting them into the context of Scots law, she would not be able to offer advice beyond those parameters – for example, the legal developments in other jurisdictions. The committee has already agreed that it wishes to receive expert advice on the legal situation in jurisdictions such as Oregon, Belgium, Switzerland and the Netherlands and how legal issues in those jurisdictions were overcome or have been handled.
2. The committee has already considered a list of four candidates for the post. The committee agreed that all of the candidates suggested were sufficiently expert for appointment and agreed an order of preference. For information, the process through which a shortlist is arrived at did generate further potential candidates, also highly expert in the field; these potential candidates, however, ruled themselves out of consideration on the basis of time commitment.

PARLIAMENTARY BUREAU

REMOVAL OF MOTIONS FROM THE BUSINESS BULLETIN

Background

1. Under Rule 8.2.8 of Standing Orders, the Bureau may remove from the list of admissible motions any motion that has been on the list for more than six weeks without a date for it to be taken by the Parliament being appointed in the business programme.
2. The Bureau has agreed that all motions should be removed from the Bulletin after six weeks (excluding recess time) unless:
 - (a) the motion has the support of at least 30 other Members and these supporters came from more than two political parties; or
 - (b) the motion remains highly topical; or
 - (c) the motion has been selected for Members' Business.
3. The attached spreadsheet lists all motions over six weeks old on 20 April 2010 (i.e. those lodged on or before 9 March 2010) and includes the number of supporters and dates of five most recent registrations of support.
4. Based on the criteria in paragraph 2, it is recommended that the following motions from the attached list be retained (note that in cases where the number of supporters exceeds 30, the topicality of the motion and the extent of the recent support have also been taken into account when making this recommendation).

Motion	Member	Title
S3M-5636	Ian McKee	Family Nurse Partnership Programme in Lothian
S3M-5722	Elaine Smith	First ScotRail Industrial Relations
S3M-5722.1	John Wilson	First ScotRail Industrial Relations

5. Members are asked to agree that the above motions be retained.
